

In memory of our past members, friends, and competitors

*Your paths may have never crossed
 You may have only heard of them by name
 It seems like they were here for only a short time
 Some were quiet, and some made you laugh
 So when you're playing in the wee morning hours
 And the dew is still on the ground
 Look into the light fog and you will see
 Their silhouettes still walking the hills of Helfrich*
